

Robin A. Dodokin

FCI Arb, Q.Arb. and Q.Med., LL.M, LL.B

Robin is a lawyer, mediator, and arbitrator. She was called to the bar in 1993 and worked in private practice as an associate lawyer and then as a partner at a mid-size firm for 23 years . In 2017 she started her own firm Dodokin Law & Conflict Resolution.

Robin is a Fellow of The Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (FCI Arb.) and is a member of the “NextGen Arbitrators” roster at Arbitration Place in Toronto. She is a member of the board of directors of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (Canada Branch). Robin has obtained the ADR Institute of Canada’s Qualified Arbitrator (Q.Arb.) and Qualified Mediator (Q.Med.) designations. She is also a member arbitrator of the Toronto Commercial Arbitration Society. She also has an LL.M in Alternate Dispute Resolution from Osgoode Hall Law School.

Her practice focus is on commercial, contractual and business disputes including oppression remedy claims and insolvency matters. In addition, she has experience in resolving family business disputes.

Robin is a creative, fair, and effective as an advocate, mediator, and arbitrator. She is practical and sees the big picture and effectively designs a process that fits the parties and the problem. When the pandemic started Robin developed and expanded her virtual conflict resolution practice and continues to conduct and offer arbitration and mediations virtually and eventually in person.

Robin can be reached at Dodokin Law & Conflict Resolution
T: 416-300-6515 E: robin@dodokinlaw.com W: <https://dodokinlaw.com>